ENEMY FACING CRITICAL PHASE IN SICILY

SQUEEZE UPON BASE AT OREL IS TIGHTENING

Fighting Along the Russian Front Spreads to Southern Donets and the Mius River

VITAL TOWNS CAPTURED

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN
Moscow, July 21.—(P)—Fighting along the Russian front spread to the southern Donets and Mius river sectors yesterday as Red army troops recaptured town after town in their drive to encircle the Germans at Orel on the central front, the Russians reported today.

Russian armies thus were on the move on a front extending some 400 miles south from Orel to a point southwest of Voroshilovgrad, where the Soviet midnight communiqué said Russian forces had crossed the Mius river, improving their positions.

Heaviest fighting still raged, however, in the vicinity of Orel, where the Soviet army was closing in around the German supply base. Advances of from four to six miles were reported during the day's fighting which saw the Germans hurl ten futile counter-attacks in an effort to halt the Russian advance.

Among the towns captured by the Russians, said a special bulletin, was Mtsensk, 31 miles northeast of Orel, the same Russian column was reported pushing on to the west.

The Red army force operating directly east of Orel meanwhile, the bulletin said, captured 20 villages in the day's fighting, including the railway station town of Voroshilov. On the southern flank a Soviet force took the city of Malo Arkhangelsk, 39 miles from Orel, the communiqué said.

Russians reported the desperate Nazi thrusts were accompanied by the same heavy loss of life and armored equipment which has marked the battle on the central front since its beginning 16 days ago.

The Russians also reported action at the southern end of the Kursk salient in the vicinity of Belgorod. Here the Red army has been busily engaged erasing the gains which the German army made in the opening days of the battle.

Resistance In Yugoslavia Is Renewed
Cairo, July 21.—(P)—A new wave of guerrilla fighting is reported here to have broken out in the Balkans, with Patriot fighters taking full advantage of softened Italian morale to strike at occupation troops.

News from Yugoslavia told of severe fighting in eastern and central Bosnia between Axis troops and guerrilla forces of Josip Broz, the Montenegrin insurgent, also known as "Tito." The latter's band was reported to have taken the offensive and to have captured a number of towns and villages from Axis garrisons.

The renewal of resistance in Yugoslavia was reported to have been closely linked with the Allied invasion of Sicily through close British-military liaison with Gen. Draja Mihailovic's guerrilla forces.

According to well substantiated figures released here, nearly 250 Axis supply trains passing over Croatian railroads had been attacked and destroyed since the spring of 1942.

REVENUE OFFICES TO BE OPENED IN AREA
Pittsburgh, July 21.—(P)—Collector of Internal Revenue Stanley Granger announced today the opening of a branch office in McKeesport, the first of 14 offices to be set up in parts of western Pennsylvania.

Ten other towns already chosen for offices are New Castle, Johnstown, Washington, Bradford, Sharon, Butler, Oil City, Aliquippa, Greensburg and Uniontown.

The purpose of the new offices is to save the taxpayers the necessity of filing returns in the main office and attending other tax matters near their business and homes, Granger said.

DENIED LICENSE
Erie, July 21.—(P)—In rejecting application for a club liquor license for the Society of the Holy Trinity, Judge Miles E. Kitts asserted yesterday "Erie has all the clubs it needs for the war's duration." Attorney Adam Gorski, representing the society, filed an appeal, which will be heard on September 13.

Victorious Allies Capture Enna, Hub Of Inland Defenses

Seizure of Key Town Forces General Withdrawal of Axis Troops From Central and Western Areas Of the Island, It Is Said

MONTGOMERY OPENS ANOTHER CRUSHER DRIVE
By ROGER GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

Victorious American and Canadian troops have captured Enna, the hub of Sicily's inland defenses, and are now rapidly driving northward to cut the island in two, dispatches from Allied headquarters announced today.

Seizure of the key town forced a general withdrawal of Axis troops from the central and western areas of the island, it was said. Italian headquarters had previously acknowledged the evacuation of Enna under crushing pressure by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's U. S. 7th Army and Canadian forces.

Reports reaching Allied headquarters said the British 8th Army had smashed still another desperate German counter-attack at the gates of Catania and squeezed tighter around that vital east coast seaport.

Allied reconnaissance pilots said they observed an eastward movement of all Axis troops, and it appeared that a general retreat to the northeast tip of Sicily had begun.

Quick collapse of Axis resistance in the west and central areas was expected.

Field reports said Italian troops were surrendering in huge numbers, raising the bag of more than 35,000 Axis prisoners already reported taken.

Capture of Enna, throwing the whole Axis communication system into jeopardy, put approximately half the island in Allied hands and virtually severed contact between German defenders at Catania and Italian forces in the west.

Enna lies almost midway across Sicily, some 35 miles from Allied invasion beachheads on the southern coast, and was the enemy's control point for lateral communications and supply routes.

The Fascist communiqué also reported new Allied bombing assaults on Naples, Italy's largest port, and Reggio Calabria, on the toe of the peninsula.

Storm Sweeps Eastern Part Of the State
By the Associated Press
Eastern Pennsylvania farmers and victory gardeners ruefully took stock of their crop damage today from an electrical storm, accompanied by hail and high winds, that struck widely scattered sections of Pennsylvania.

Power and telephone lines were snapped in the Eastern area last night while uprooted trees and fallen branches halted traffic on many streets. Crops were flattened in Eastern and surrounding communities, including Bangor and Nazareth, and in nearby New Jersey sections.

The storm cut a three-mile-wide swath through northeastern Berks county where fire started by lightning destroyed barns owned by Walter Baker a mile north of Springdale and Anson Dietrich a mile south of Grimvill. Loss was estimated at $20,000 each.

Lancaster reported "hail as large as walnuts" but little crop damage while other communities in the southeastern part of the state escaped with light rainfall as did Allentown, only a few miles southeast of Easton.

In western Pennsylvania the wind felled power lines and interrupted electric service in some Pittsburgh suburbs. Lightning that struck the home of Melvin Smith in West Park burned wall paper and plasterboard. Water washed five tons of coal a block down Tioga street, Pittsburgh.

Report Says Pope May Leave Vatican City
By the Associated Press
The Berlin radio, quoting what it said was "competent Vatican circles," reported today that in the event of further air raids on Rome Pope Pius XII would consider the removal of his residence from Vatican City to one of the papal palaces within Rome.

The broadcast, which was recorded by The Associated Press, said the Pope "wants to express that he is not only the head of the Catholic church but also is the bishop of Rome, and that he therefore is determined to share the dangers and fate of the city's population."

The broadcast added that "it is not only of importance to the Pope that Vatican City be spared from enemy air raids but also that Rome itself will not be exposed to enemy attacks."

The broadcast was in line with the attempts of Axis propagandists to arouse agitation abroad against further bombing of Rome.

Government Newspaper Advertising Is Advocated
Washington, July 21.—(P)—Paid newspaper advertising by the government to aid the stabilization program and the war effort is strongly favored by Senator Clark (D-Mo.).

"It is ridiculous to say this would be a subsidy or would lead to government control of the press," he declared in remarks inserted in the congressional record.

Supporting a bill introduced by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), Clark said: "Every manufacturer of munitions, every purveyor of any other kind of war supplies, expects to be not only paid for what he furnishes but a reasonable profit on top of it.

"I see no reason why the newspapers should not equally be paid for the only thing they have to sell—that is, their advertising space—when it is devoted to the government's interest."

The Missouriian, asserting that newspapers already have contributed greatly to the war effort by free insertion of government releases, said that while some large newspapers have been able to recompense themselves by getting their own large advertisers to back various war activities, smaller newspapers have not been able to do this.

SPECULATION OVER MEETING OF DICTATORS

Belief Prevails That Il Duce, In Confab With Hitler, Made an Urgent Plea For Help

MEETING PLACE SECRET

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Former Chief of The Associated Press Rome Bureau

Washington, July 21.—(P)—More German legends for defense of Italy were believed here today to be the purpose of the meeting between Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler at some northern Italian point the day Rome was bombed.

Mussolini, his power hanging by a thread, was thought in diplomatic quarters to have asked Hitler to reinforce the peninsula's defenses with German divisions. Whether Hitler agreed remains to be seen.

Allied observers heard in roundabout ways some weeks ago that the Germans intended to desert Italy after fighting only a rear guard action in Sicily long enough to permit evacuation of troops.

But now it is thought that the fuhrer must realize the surrender of Italy would be a tremendous blow to the morale on his own front—if not in Germany—at least in the occupied and satellite countries. The Americans and British then would be able to march across Italy into Yugoslavia and establish the dreaded Balkan front.

Furthermore, Allied bombers could use northern Italy as bases for assault against the war industries, communication lines and supply routes in southern Germany, Austria and Hungary.

BY THOMAS HAWKINS
Bern, July 21.—(P)—Informed diplomatic circles expressed belief today that Premier Mussolini had made an urgent appeal to Adolf Hitler for more help in the defense of his gravely threatened country when the Axis partners met Monday somewhere in northern Italy—perhaps Verona.

These sources agreed that immediate events in the battle of Sicily had prompted the conference, which apparently was held as American bombers pounded Rome, but most of them felt that the situation in Italy itself was the main topic of discussion.

In reaching this conclusion they pointed to recent Axis statements hinting that both Germany and Italy already regard the defense of Sicily as a lost cause.

The observers reasoned that if the Axis has given up hope of holding the island the next line of defense must be on the Italian mainland and that ways and means must be found of withdrawing the remnants of the Sicilian force and reorganizing to resist an Allied landing.

There were two sides to the question confronting Hitler, observers believed. First: Would German commitments in Russia, the Balkans, in occupied France and Norway, and at home be endangered, and second, is bomb-blasted Italy a good risk?

HIGHWAY FATALITY IN CRAWFORD COUNTY
Titusville, July 21.—(P)—An automobile struck and killed Charles Cochran, 17, of Hightown, last night as he walked with Robert Roof, 15, on a highway a mile west of Newtowntown.

Cochran was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Cochran and had three sisters and three brothers.

Hot Campaign Forecast In Quaker City
Philadelphia, July 21.—(P)—It's acting Mayor Bernard Samuel versus William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to the Soviet Union and France, for mayor of Philadelphia, chief municipal post at stake in Pennsylvania's fall election.

The Republican city committee, through Chairman David W. Harris, endorsed Samuel after he announced his candidacy yesterday for a full term. He has been acting mayor since August 23, 1941, the day following the death of the incumbent, Robert E. Lambertson.

Bullitt, now an assistant to Secretary of the Navy Knox, accepted the Democratic organization's invitation to be a candidate late last week.

Since both have organization endorsement, neither is expected to have opposition in the September primary election. The mayor's term is four years at $15,000 a year.

Governor Martin, who carried traditionally Republican Philadelphia by a narrow margin last November, said at Harrisburg before Samuel's candidacy was announced that he thought G. O. P. chances in the coming city election were "very good."

British Boys To Mine Coal
London, July 21.—(P)—British boys from 16 to 18 years of age must be drafted for work in English coal mines to boost the lagging production of coal for the nation's fuel-hungry war industries, Ernest Bevin, minister of labor, told the Blackpool Mine Workers Federation yesterday.

Pleading with the federation not to "raise a political storm" over the issue, Bevin said it was urgent that 30,000 to 40,000 youths be called up. He disclosed that although 47,000 miners have returned to the pits from other higher-paid jobs, the number of miners has fallen to 690,000. He estimated the absolute minimum to keep production at the necessary level at 720,000 to 750,000.

Heretofore boys reaching the draft age have been given their choice of going into the armed forces or into the mines, but Bevin said that so far only 3,000 have taken mining jobs in preference to 50-cent-a-day service with the army and navy.

First Floating Power Plant And Food Policies Appears Almost Ready

Washington, July 21.—(P)—The first of four floating power plants, any one of which could produce enough electricity for a city the size of Galveston, Topeka, or Madison, Wis., will be commissioned into government service July 26 at Pittsburgh.

A dedication ceremony is planned for the huge barge, built to be towed through the inland waterway system to places where war production demands exceed electric generating capacity, or breakdowns make an emergency power supply necessary. J. A. Krug, director of the Office of War Utilities, who first announced plans for the revolutionary "floating power" more than a year ago, is expected to attend, along with other War Production Board (WPB) officials, including Executive Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson.

A total of $13,000,000 is being spent on the four barges, each of which is 250 feet long and carries a completely equipped power plant. (Turn to Page Seven)

MOTHER DIES BEFORE ARRIVAL OF HERO SON
Brackenridge, July 21.—(P)—Twenty-year old Staff Sergeant Wesley D. Cowan, an aerial gunner, was on his way home today from the Far Pacific war theater, unaware of his mother's death.

Mrs. Charles Cowan had waited two years for the visit, coupled with the hope that it might be a decorated son returning. She died Sunday. Yesterday a letter arrived at the home from Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, citing Sgt. Cowan for "meritorious achievement while participating in an aerial flight over Rabaul Harbor, New Britain," and awarding him the air medal.

Ships Bombard Kiska Island
Washington, July 21.—(P)—The navy reported today that two small American warships bombarded the Japanese defenses on Kiska Island in the Aleutians Tuesday and the enemy failed to return the fire.

In the South Pacific, meanwhile, the Japanese bombed the American base on Funafuti, Ellice Islands, in the latest of a series of light attacks, against advanced outposts guarding the supply lines to Australia. The enemy caused no damage or injuries at Funafuti so far as reports here showed.

The navy had not reported any raid by the enemy on Funafuti since April 26, at which time American occupation of the advanced position in the south-central Pacific was disclosed. The Japanese bases closest to the Ellice Islands are in the Gilbert group to the north.

Director For Draft Named
Harrisburg, July 21.—(P)—Pennsylvania's extensive selective service system will be directed by Col. Richard K. Mellon after August 1.

The 43-year-old Pittsburgh banker was named state director yesterday by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director, on Governor Martin's recommendation. The new director will be aided by Lieut. Col. George H. Hafer as deputy director.

Hafer had been acting director for the past several months, succeeding another acting head, Lieut. Col. B. F. Evans, since transferred to Washington. Of Haver, Governor Martin declared at his press conference: "He has done a fine job."

The new director is the son of the late Richard B. Mellon and the late Jennie King Mellon and a nephew of Andrew Mellon, former secretary of the treasury.

Executive Branch and Legislative Leaders Appear to be Getting Together

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Washington, July 21.—(P)—The executive branch and legislative leaders appeared to be headed toward a truce on some of their major farm and food policy differences today as:

1—Senator Russell (D-Ga.) called on his farm state contemporaries to meet the administration halfway on any move it might make toward reconciliation of those differences, and

2—The Agricultural Adjustment Agency (AAA) forbade its 200,000 field employees and committeemen to distribute information about AAA farm programs through news channels.

Russell told reporters he was pleased that War Food Administrator Marvin Jones planned to consult with congressmen before making final decisions affecting future farm problems.

His assertions followed an agricultural department interpretation of a provision in its new appropriation act which prohibited the use of federal funds in paying salaries and expenses of any AAA information employee. The announcement told the employees, as well as the state, county and local farmer committeemen, that they must not carry on any promotional activity for the AAA as an institution or for its policies, or attempt to build public pressure for or against congressional action on farm measures.

The congressional refusal of funds for informational work followed complaints that AAA employees and committeemen had sought to influence legislative attitude on a proposed crop incentive payment program.

These armistice moves coincided with a variety of developments on the ever-pressing food question.

They included a War Food Administration (WEA) decision to require slaughterers to trim more fat for land off pork cuts, a senate committee's plans to investigate

Treasury Is Worried Over Shortage of $10,000 Bills
By DONALD KOVACIC
Washington, July 21.—(P)—Of all the things to have to worry about, now the treasury comes along with the disheartening announcement that $10,000 bills are getting scarce.

Nearly 4,000 of the longest of this country's long green have found their way back into the treasury in the past two and one-half years. There are fewer than 2,200 at large.

The rise and decline in popularity of the big notes follows a pattern that can be traced to darkening war clouds and the imposition of stringent government monetary controls.

When there is a demand for the big bills, officials attribute some of it to desire on the part of some foreign nationals to convert their assets into the most compact form of cash.

The government some time ago turned a more critical eye on such dealings and added new and sharper controls. Then the notes began to flow back to the banks. The latter, in turn, converted them into smaller currencies,

JAPS HALTED IN EFFORT TO RUN BLOCKADE

American Bombers Credited With Sinking Enemy Cruiser and at Least Two Destroyers

MUNDA BASE POUNDED

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, July 21.—(P)—American bombers were credited today with sinking a cruiser and two destroyers of a Japanese convoy attempting vainly to run the Allied sea and air blockade around the big Munda airbase in the Solomons.

A force of three light cruisers, six destroyers and two transports, undoubtedly seeking to aid the hardpressed garrison at Munda, was spotted by Catalina flying boats shortly after midnight yesterday in Vella Gulf just west of Kolombangara Island.

The Catalinas followed the convoy until strong formations of Liberators, Mitchells and Avenger bombers arrived with bombs which blasted at least three warships to the bottom and sent the remainder fleeing or limping northward.

A third destroyer was listed as probably sunk, and a transport and yet another destroyer were damaged.

Four bombers were lost—two Mitchells and two Avengers. The action, described in today's General Douglas MacArthur, served to maintain steady pressure on Munda, big airbase on New Georgia Island, which has been hit by land, sea and air attack since the Southwest Pacific offensive started on July 1.

Supply or reinforcement of Munda has been rendered "dangerous and difficult," the communiqué said, and "a slow but constant deterioration of this (the enemy's) beleaguered garrison can be expected unless our blockade ring can be broken."

Berlin Radio Claims Rome Again Raided

London July 21.—(P)—The Berlin radio reported today that Rome had been raided again last night by Allied planes.

The broadcast, recorded by Reuters, was not immediately confirmed by any other sources, however.

The German announcer said details of the reported raid were not yet known.

Nothing was known of such a raid here and observers considered a night attack on the Eternal City as highly unlikely, pointing out that leaflets dropped by American airmen during Monday's raid said specifically the attack was being made by daylight to guarantee accuracy.

Observers also pointed out that the leaflets mentioned the possibility that Axis planes might be used to drop bombs and lend credibility to propaganda claims that the Allies were deliberately destroying cultural monuments.

VICTORY HASTENED BY HOME CANNING FOOD EXPERT SAYS

New York, July 20.—Food produced by American farmers and preserved by the nation's housewives is helping win the battle of Europe just as it helped subdue North Africa, the nation's leading buyer of fresh fruits and vegetables said today.

"One major sign that American women are going all-out in the war effort is in their response to the home-canning campaign, which is bolstering home food supplies and releasing more commercially-processed food for our armed forces and for peoples freed from Axis domination," said Harry A. Baum, head of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's produce-buying operations.

"That housewives are making 1943 the biggest home-canning year in history is indicated by a 300 per cent increase over last year in A & P sales of glass jars and other canning supplies."

Citing a news report from the Mediterranean area that food supplies have been unloaded to feed the civilian population of southeastern Sicily, Baum added:

"In Sicily alone there are at least 3,500,000 civilians, a large percentage undernourished, to whom the assurance of food will mean more than allegiance to a fading dictator. Of course, home-canned food doesn't go overseas, but each glass jar of it makes available an equivalent amount for use in the thick of the fight for freedom."

Baum said his company is continuing its nationwide home-canning service by informing housewives when various fresh fruits and vegetables reach production peaks. At such times, he explained, these items are abundant, more economical and are rushed to market in fully-matured condition, making them ideal for preserving.

Beer Sources Drying Up As Pigs Wax Fat

Here it is with the thermometer hovering around the nineties and the Warren beer parlors are facing a beer famine. The foamy beverage is scarce and is growing scarcer so that the elbow benders and pretzel biters will soon have to turn to iced tea-maybe.

It's all the fault of the ceiling price set on corn by the OPA say the boys who sell the beverage that made "Hi Le, his low" famous. But the pigs are getting fat and pork chops are being expanded while the beer consumers belts are being tightened.

According to the tale of the beer men the OPA set a ceiling price on corn. The western farmers who have cribs fairly bursting with the yellow grain simply refuse to market their crop for the ceiling price and have started to feed the porkers instead of sending the corn to market. Its the little pigs going to market instead of the corn.

And as beer contains 27 per cent corn in its brewing the farmers are making the spigots run slower and slower and finally they may only drip and mayhaves even stop.

There are certain kinds of beer that right now are off the bars in Warren. Several of the clubs yesterday had no draught beer, and this morning one club was out of both draught and bottled beer. Transportation troubles, too.

have hit several Warren dealers and drivers are getting better wages on other jobs than juggling the heavy kegs and they are leaving the truck wheels for other jobs. All of which adds up to making the beer situation decidedly rocky.

MURDER IN TIN

By CARL A. PETERSON

Chapter 10

I HAD never been to LaTurque's before. It wasn't a large restaurant like Prenches' or Paolo's or an intimate one like Henri's. It was small and its atmosphere glittered. People of many nationalities were dining. Mexican Army officers, Greeks, Englishmen, Americans. I selected a table in the corner where we could continue our duel without being overheard.

"Two martinis," I said to the waiter. "Is that all right with you?" I asked her.

"They're the best martinis in the city."

"You've been here before then?"

"With my father and with other men."

"Recently?"

"No, not recently? Don't you gumshoes ever relax?"

I laughed. "You don't believe a thing I tell you?"

"Do you believe what I tell you?"

"No. It's a strange situation. We don't trust each other, but you want my help."

She toyed with the menu card. "Perhaps you need mine."

"Perhaps," I laughed again.

The martinis arrived. Last night I had downed three tequilas. I recalled. "The world's at high tension," I said. "Each day is a week, a month. Each day's the equivalent in importance to thirty days in peace time."

She smiled and we drank. I ordered two more martinis. But after the second shot I gave up the attempt to be merely social. Mirtilo and Johnson, I was sure, were not indulging in small conversation right now. They were probably discussing the lack of police activity; perhaps discussing my tete-a-tete at LaTurque's with Sam Taggard's daughter; that is if their Gestapo footpad had phoned them.

"You should see the way you're staring at me," she said. "As if you hate me."

"YOU'RE too pretty to be hated," I said. I thought that she might be a traitor; pretty women had been traitors before in other wars. Yet it would be hard to hate her.

After I ordered, I said, "About this man Chevalle. When's your appointment?"

"Tonight, at ten o'clock. Why don't you come along with me?"

"You move fast when you move."

"Like father like daughter is what you think," she said. "But all I want, believe me is to help my father. I know he isn't a saint. But I'm not judging him. He's always been good to me. All I want is to help him."

"In his traitorous activities?"

"No. Just to keep him from harm. He's always been good to me. I must help him."

"Why don't you appeal to the American Consul?"

She took a silver cigarette case out of her purse.

"Why did you want me to meet Mirtilo?" I said.

"You're decidedly monotonous."

"Why do you want me to meet Chevalle?"

The waiter arrived with our order under a series of silver covers. "I'm hungry," I announced and for the next course or two I forgot about Sam Taggard. It was a relief. He deserved no sympathy of mine. He was a racketeer at best and he had gotten caught. He was of no value to a country at war. His discovery was all that mattered in connection with him.

At coffee I said, "I'm not a subtle person. I blunder around a great deal. I haven't made up my mind how much I can trust you. That's why I keep on repeating myself. Bad home one of the war posters shows a sailor with a red-headed good-looking girl. There's some motto on the poster to the effect: Beware sailor. Do I make myself clear?"

"Very."

"I MADE your acquaintance last night. Tonight you invite me to visit a man called Chevalle."

"He lives on the Paseo de la Reforma," she said as if she hadn't been listening to me at all. "I don't like to visit a man alone late at night. You're somebody I can trust. It's like taking a policeman along, Mr. Calder. I don't know how this will sound to you but I am going to help my father as best as I can. If the Government ever catches up with him—" She hesitated. "I know this. I don't want him sent to a penitentiary. Not if I can help it! I'm the one person he can trust—"

"And you propose to pursue a course independent of your Government."

"Don't preach to me. I'm willing to cooperate without preaching."

"Why do you want to cooperate with me?" I asked. "Why me in preference to other Washington representatives whom you have been meeting? It isn't that I'm unappreciative, but I'd like to know."

"You call the policeman closest at hand."

"That's true."

"I've been in Mexico City long enough to realize I can't do much by myself."

"Is your father in Mexico City?"

"He was."

"Have you seen him?"

"No."

"Do you think he's left?"

"No. He would've gotten word to me somehow even though I'm being followed and my mail is being held," she snapped. "Even though my room has been searched."

"YOUR father's ingenious," I admitted. "Any man who can stay out of sight for six months with both the Gestapo and our people after him—" I stopped and thought: Maybe his ingenuity was at an end. Maybe he had literally reached a dead-end in the room with the barred window. "Where was your father when you received word from him at Acapulco? And how did you get word from him?"

"Don't you think there's a limit to your questions? I don't know why I'm telling you anything. I don't know why but I feel so alone. Oh, God. The last I knew dad was either in Michoacan or Sinaloa."

"The're both gold districts," I said. "He couldn't have been in both of them. Are you trying to confuse me?"

"No. No. Dad wasn't always like that. He's become hard." She covered her face with her hands. "I asked the man who brought me dad's message where dad was and that was what he answered."

"Who was the man?"

"I can't tell you that."

"You will," I said. "Was he a Mexican? An American? Who was he?" I pounded at her. "Chevalle?"

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR HOME CANNERS!

Here's something you should know about methods of canning and wartime types of jar tops

War-time has forced upon home-canners certain new types of jar tops as a conservation measure. It is important to understand the differences in these materials and to guard against any glass breakage or food spoilage, by adapting your canning methods to these new materials.

Care should be taken when using these new jar tops, regardless of which canning method you use. OPEN KETTLE canning calls for processing the food in bulk quantities in a kettle and then placing it in hot sterile jars and sealing it immediately. OVEN, WATER BATH and PRESSURE COOKER methods call for placing the food in the jars and then processing with heat. In these last three methods the top is placed on the jar, but THE DEGREE OF TIGHTNESS DEPENDS UPON THE TYPE OF JAR TOP.

Remember this: War-time rubbers may be black, have a peculiar odor, and may be lipless. Wash them thoroughly and place on the jar without stretching because they will not spring back to their original size.

In using jars that require rubber rings (illustrations 1, 2 and 3) seal these only partially before processing, as indicated in instructions below, otherwise breakage of jars may result. Jars of these types should be sealed completely after processing. Those with the 2-piece metal cover (illustration 4), should be sealed to a finger tightness after filling. After processing, do not tighten further.

The chart below shows types of jar tops and how much they should be tightened with each method. Follow instructions for the particular types of jars used.

*In addition follow these important steps in OVEN CANNING

- 1 Use standard glass canning jars made by nationally known manufacturers. Examine jars carefully for any defects such as bubbles or cracks in the glass, nicks in the top edges of the jars, etc. Do not use mayonnaise, pickle, coffee or other such jars for heat processing in the jar unless you know the glass to be tempered to withstand the strain.
- 2 Leave ample head space. Fill jars with food and liquid to neck only.
- 3 See chart above for directions for various types of jar closures.
- 4 Allow space between jars for circulation. Do not place more than nine pint or quart jars in the oven at one time.
- 5 Oven temperature must be controlled by a reliable thermostat. Use temperature of 275° for fruits, 250° for vegetables. Make sure your thermostat is accurate.
- 6 Start counting processing time when last jar is placed in the oven. Follow reliable time tables to determine processing time.
- 7 Avoid drafts while removing jars from oven. Do not place hot jars on cool surface or in a draft.

When you choose the canning method most adaptable to your equipment and needs, be sure to obtain and follow reliable instructions for that method. For additional information, consult the Home Service Department of your Gas company.

EVERYBODY LIKES A GOOD STORY-TELLER

Says Channing Pollock in Your Life, "in the present state of this planet, a good laugh may be worth its weight in coffee," then he continues:

At a social gathering nowadays, the center of interest is usually the farthest point from the center of gravity, and your popularity is more likely to be in proportion to your entertainment value than to your selling qualities. As all the world loves a lover, so all the world loves a good story-teller, and almost anyone can be that who takes the trouble to try.

Somebody said, "Bald heads and relatives are gifts of God, but every man's wife and his whiskers are his own fault." Wit, also, is a gift of God, and so is a real talent for narration, but anybody who can stick to his point and stop when he reaches it should be able to hold his audience with a good story. The man who can't become a wet blanket, and my advice to a wet blanket is "Dry up!"

"BACK THE ATTACK—WITH WAR BONDS"

E. A. Roberts, chairman of the War Finance Committee for the State of Pennsylvania, in a telegram to this paper, makes the following appeal for cooperation, which we are pleased to pass on to readers of the Times-Mirror in full confidence that Warren county in the forthcoming effort, will sustain the excellent record made in previous projects of similar nature:

"Back the Attack—With War Bonds," slogan for the third war loan campaign scheduled September 9, implies the need for everyone to give all-out support in raising the staggering sums needed to finance invasion and battles yet to be launched.

Every individual must double and treble investments in War Bonds to make this campaign a success. We must maintain this Keystone State's unexcelled record and we know that Pennsylvania newspapers, will redouble the excellent cooperation that placed it first in editorial cooperation lineage and number of advertisements during the Second Loan.

Too, we do not forget how newspapers stepped into the breach in the emergency to conduct single-handed the most successful scrap drive last winter.

We ask your assurance that you will back the war finance efforts to the limit, help us strengthen our volunteer force already numbering thousands, and stress to your readers their personal responsibility in the vast task only seven weeks distant.

HELP THE RAILROADS

This has been said before, but will stand repeating. Unless the public co-operates, it may become necessary to ration traveling, which would be just about as difficult and obnoxious a proceeding as one could well imagine.

The railroads have done and are doing a fine job. But they have their limits, and those limits were pushed around badly on the Independence Day week-end. Military travel must come first. Civilian travel in connection with war work should come next. There is little space left for non-essential traveling.

What is non-essential? The Louisville & Northern Railroad suggests that it includes visiting friends in other cities; going home for week-ends; sightseeing; attending conventions, class reunions, sporting events—any trips made merely for social and pleasure purposes.

MORE COFFEE

For the prediction that coffee rationing may end soon, and for the fact that supplies have become about normal, our successful anti-submarine methods can be thanked. But also, credit must go to the shipbuilders. It is they who produced ships to offset heavy sinkings and even to build up our merchant fleet.

It is to be assumed that sugar will be the next luxury to return to normal supply. This will be a double boon—to us, who love our sweets, and to the Caribbean peoples who depend upon sugar money for their livings.

The PAC (Presbyterian Activities Club) is making elaborate plans for the second event for young people of the community when a "Fun Night" program will be staged at the YWCA Saturday evening. This is a splendid project for youths from 8th grade through college age and deserves the support of all.

Readers are urged to keep in mind the D. A. R. program at the YWCA Thursday afternoon as a benefit for the Red Cross blood plasma and mobile unit fund. A good time is assured all who attend.

Airmen were allowed to bomb anything in Rome but religious and cultural objects—which probably sent Mussolini to an air raid shelter instead of his balcony.

Too bad some person didn't think of erecting a stand for spectators on the Hickory street bridge before the contractor started to work.

Working Up to the Neck

Washington In Wartime

(Second of two articles on Food Administrator Marvin Jones)
By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—One question that already is being asked here is this: "Is Marvin Jones, now elevated to War Food Administrator and the War Mobilization cabinet being groomed for something bigger?"

That something bigger could only be the post of running mate to the President should he make a bid for a fourth term, as political leaders of both parties now consider.

So far as I can determine, the first mention of Jones as a vice-presidential possibility came from that little circle who pass freely in and out of the doors of the President's study. That mention may have been no more than a trial balloon, but the probability that it was more than that makes it worth exploring.

The only three other men mentioned so far as possible names for the fourth term stakes are James F. Byrnes, now the "Second President" in handling the home front; Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn; and Vice President Henry Wallace.

BOTH press and political observers here now believe that Wallace is out of the running, because there is no indication that he has developed any greater magnetism for votes than he had in 1940, because he would be no help in healing the breach in the Democratic South and West; and because he went against his Chief's explicit instructions and blew his feud with Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones into a page-one Administration family scandal.

Speaker Rayburn has the qualifications of being geographically right and absolutely loyal. But he isn't one of the best known Democrats and his difficulties with a rebellious House this spring haven't added to his prestige. The fault wasn't his, but the fact remains.

Byrnes still is very much in the picture, but the feeling is growing both in and out of party circles that appeasement of the South which South Carolina's politically popular Mr. Byrnes certainly could effect, isn't going to be nearly as important as bringing the agriculturally-minded Middle West and West into the fold.

THERE is where the quiet, pliant Judge Jones potentially mercury goes soaring. Politically, he's a cattleman, cotton-man, wheat-man and under-privileged farmer. As a west Texan, he belongs to the solid Democratic South. As a resident since youth of the vast Texas panhandle, he's as western as a rodeo. His record with the small farmers is unblemished. His former Texas colleague, Rep. Wright Patman, says: "Under his leadership, more laws were enacted for the benefit of farmers than were enacted in all previous Congresses."

Moreover, he has the reputation for never having seen a bill he sponsored voted down. That should make him a right handy man to have in the chair of the President of the Senate.

Years Ago In Warren

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1933
Miss Carolyn Jones, of Harrisburg state organizer of the Child Health Clinic spent yesterday in the city inspecting the work being done here. She was most enthusiastic about the Warren county results. High praise was given the local officers.

The first band concert of the season by the Moose band under the baton of Harry Brunner was given last evening at the bridgehead at Hickory street. Hundreds enjoyed the music which was of the classical as well as popular variety.

About 40 cars will carry the congregation and Sunday School of Trinity church to Midway next Tuesday where the annual picnic will be held. Ball games and other sports will be on the tapis and there will be a plethora of good eats and oceans of lemonade.

Charles Hertz, of North East was on the market this morning with an array of fruits and vegetables. He reports that the peach crop will be a small one this year and prices will be high.

J. H. Perks, Fourth ward grocer is also a gardener of note and today he showed up with the first ripe tomato of the season in this locality.

In 1933
At the horse show at Ludlow tomorrow one of the features will be riding by members of the 104th Cavalry, of Harrisburg. There will be several members of the Troop participating and some good riding will be done. On the day following they will appear at the Boalsburg Horse Show.

Company I will leave this week for Mt. Gretna for the annual tour of duty in camp. The company is recruited almost to full strength. The trip as usual will be made on a special train.

A. R. Mix, of Florida is spending some time with E. M. Hodges and other friends in the vicinity. For many years Mr. Mix resided in the vicinity of Lander and has a host of friends in the county.

Over 500 folk from Sheffield and vicinity attended the picnic of the First M. E. church and Sunday School held at Wild Cat Park yesterday. This is the largest picnic ever to go out of Sheffield and the town was practically deserted during the day. A wonderful time was enjoyed by all according to reports.

You May Never Have To Take Another Laxative

Most constipated people might be as regular as clock-work—if they would only quit worrying—stop being nervous—take more exercise—watch their diet—and get up mornings an hour or so earlier to give bowels time to act. But who can or wants to do all that?

So—the next best thing is to keep the bowels working as regularly and comfortably as we can—and that's where good Epsom's comes in. Why?

Because you may take Epsom's at night and expect results in the morning when you get up without waiting around—because they do not move the bowels so violently as to leave you feeling weak and washed-out.

AND because they help give the grand, comfortable, satisfying type of movement that makes the spirits soar—and what more, constipated people could ask for more! Get Epsom's at your drugist today and take as directed. 25c.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Charlie Jenkins writes me from down at camp:

"Dear Joe: Somethin' mighty swell happened to me on my last day's leave. I'm standin' on the corner, not knowin' anybody in town, when a stranger says 'hello, soldier—how'd you like a chicken dinner at home with me and the wife?'"

"Well, it turns out they were the kind of folks who couldn't do enough to help out soldiers. They'd invited two other fellows and just as soon as we're introduced the lady brings us a glass of beer before dinner.

"We had a fine dinner, talked till ten... Honest, Joe, I'll never forget their hospitality. Makes me feel good fighting for people like that."

Thought you might like to hear what kind o' fellows we got in this army of ours, and how they like to enjoy themselves when they get a chance to.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Times-Mirror:

I wish to comment on the article appearing in the Times-Mirror July 16 entitled the "New Cost of Tuition Act". Feeling that this article might be misinterpreted on less both sides of the question are presented, I, as president of a school board sending pupils to the Warren High School, wish to insert a few ideas in defense.

Senate Bill 315, which was introduced in the last legislature, had for its purpose a change in the definition of "Cost of Tuition" and was drawn up by interested persons for the purpose of annulling the old Academy Agreement between the Warren School Board and the Trustees of the Warren Academy which would have had a definite effect financially upon the 12 school districts now concerned and many of the other 17 school districts in the county which might in the future desire to enter pupils in the Warren High School.

Lets go back to the original agreement. In 1898 the Warren School Board entered into an agreement with the Trustees of the Warren Academy whereby Warren School District received $14,000 which, at that time, was used in the construction of the Warren School building. Warren School District, therefore, has had the use of this money for the past 45 years, which if an interest charge had been made, would have added up to a considerable amount. Also Warren School District received a grant of land consisting of 549 acres located west of Warren. At the time of this agreement, it was generally thought that this land might be of value in the production of oil. Generally speaking the Warren School Board felt that it had completed a good business deal that might help greatly in financing Warren's Educational future. Warren School District in turn agreed to admit county students to high school at the cost of tuition.

In 1925 the Legislature passed a law amending the school code so that the cost of tuition to outside districts include a 10% over-charge. Later a Warren County Court decision (No. 40, March Term 1927) ordered that the Warren School District could not make the 10% extra charge by reason of the fact that it was bound by the Academy Act provision. Thus we now have the reason for Senate Bill 315.

As a member of one of the twelve school boards in Warren County that would have been affected by the above bill, I feel I speak for all directors in stating that Warren School District should consider that the gift received from the Trustees of the Warren Academy back in 1898, was not so much as a gift but rather as a commitment to an obligation. We also firmly believe that no Act of the Legislature can alter, change or annul an agreement or contract between governing bodies. In fact it is unconstitutional. Article I Section 17 reads as follows:

"Ex post facto law, nor any law impairing the obligation of contracts, or making irrevocable any grant of special privileges, or immunities shall be passed."

Warren High School Tuition is the highest tuition charge made by any of the high schools in the county. The following is a comparison for the 1942-43 school term.

Sheffield high school, $57.96.
Warren high school, $81.99.
Youngville high school, $57.15.

Fort Radio Operator On Furlough Here

Staff Sgt. Gilbert Taft, who has just returned to the army air base at Dyersburg, Tenn., after a brief furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taft, 20 Swiss street, will soon head into combat with his ten-man Flying Fortress crew.

A graduate of the Army Air Forces training schools, Sgt. Taft is a member of the Second Air Force, which trains heavy bombardment crews for aerial warfare.

He is assistant radio operator aboard one of the army's prize bombers and as such maintains constant contact with ground stations, receives weather information and operates the inter-communication and inter-plane communication systems.

In civilian life Staff Sgt. Taft was an oil tester employed by the Sherwood Refining Company here.

has been going up rapidly of late as follows:
1940-41—$69.57; 1941-42—$73.98; 1942-43—$81.99; 1943-44—$90.00 (estimated).

In arriving at the estimated tuition charge for 1943-44 we have taken into consideration the 10% blanket increase in teachers salaries paid during the 1942-43 school term by the Warren School Board plus the usual increments earned by some teachers and the increased cost of textbooks, supplies etc. If Senate Bill 315 had become a law 10% would be added to the $90 making a total yearly tuition charge of $99 for the 1943-44 school term or a one year increase in tuition cost of about $17.00. Districts in Warren County would have received notice this fall that they must dig down and furnish this extra cost in tuition. This would mean borrowing this year and going into debt to meet current expenses since budgets had already been made out and mileage act for next year.

It is true that the county districts will be reimbursed by the state from 45% to 55% according to the type of district or about 50% average and not 60% as stated in the article. The added cost to the district after the state has reimbursed it would amount to about $8.50 per student extra for the district to pay during the 1943-44 school term.

The directors from the outside districts deeply resent the attempt that was made on drawing up and introducing such a bill that would greatly affect 12 districts without so much as a hint as to what could be expected. Article III Section 8 of the Pennsylvania Constitution provides that local publicity shall be given of special bills where the matter or the thing to be affected may be situated. This of course was not done. Because of this fact the Warren County school boards asked for and received help from our representatives at Harrisburg and the result was that the bill was returned to its committee where it died.

If this bill had passed it would have been necessary to have taken it to court where needless money and time would have been spent. I believe that these school board members will again oppose any attempt to pass any bill in the future that would have for its purpose an annulment of the Academy agreement.

Very truly yours,
H. W. Walchli, President
Clarendon School Board.

Obituary

MRS. R. K. RUSSELL
Ethel Irene Russell, wife of Dr. R. K. Russell, of Bradford, and daughter of Thomas O'Brien, of Garland, died yesterday afternoon in Bradford Hospital, where she had been a patient for the past five weeks. Besides her husband and father, she leaves a son, Richard Evans, in the Merchant Marine; a step-daughter, Mrs. William Koolage, in Philadelphia; one brother and two sisters, Edward O'Brien, Salamanca, N. Y.; Mrs. George McClellan, Bradford, and Mrs. Bert Graham, Garland; also two grandchildren.
Private funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon, with burial in the family plot in Willow Dale cemetery. Friends may call at the family home, 26 Sherman street, prior to the services.

CHARLES HOLLISTER
Funeral services in memory of Charles Hollister, Railroad street, were held at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Lutz Funeral Home. The rites were in charge of Rev. M. I. Harding, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, and followed by interment in Westview cemetery at Starbrick. The following served as bearers: Robert Nelson, Albert Wood, John McCain and Donald Smith.
Those who came from out of town for the services were Mrs. Leo Goodard, Mr. and Mrs. John McCain, Erie; Pvt. Clyde Travis, Indianatown Gap.

GEORGE L. KING
(Written for the Times-Mirror)
George Lawrence King, for nearly 75 years a resident of West Hickory and one of the community's prominent citizens, passed away at his home there at 7:55 p. m. July 6 after an extended illness.
A son of the late George and Margaret Fitzpatrick King, he was born at Petroleum Center, Venango county, October 10, 1867. When ten years of age he came to West Hickory, his father pioneering in the oil business and drilling wells on the farm which his son owned and operated until his death.
Mr. King was one of the best farmers in his section and perhaps in the county, well deserving the title of master farmer. A flourish and well managed dairy business has been conducted on his farm for years. He was always at the front when anything for the good of the community was being planned and carried out. For many years he was the assessor and collector of taxes for Harmony township. He was a member of school board, its secretary for years, and the present fine school building at West Hickory is a monument to his zeal. He helped to organize the Forest County Road Supervisors' Association, serving for 20 years as its secretary, and assisted in the organization of the present active Agricultural Extension Association of Forest county, being secretary for 20 years.
He was twice married. His first wife was Hannah Casey, whom he married on June 2, 1897. She died March 29, 1912. On July 8, 1914, he was married to Margaret Donovan, who survives with the following children: Charles B. and Wichita Falls, Texas; John H. and George J. West Hickory; Mrs. Margaret, Killfeather and Miss Mary, Arlington, Va.; William L. Tidite.
A requiem mass in his memory was celebrated by Father Edward Jacobs in St. John's church, Tidite, of which he had been a lifelong member. Interment was made in the church cemetery with Perry Smith, Oscar Johnson, Jerome Hinkle, Sr., Eugene Green, William Steele, West Hickory, and George King, Tidite, as bearers.

JOSEPH RITZ
Funeral services for Joseph Ritz were held at 9 a. m. Tuesday from Holy Redeemer church, Father Salvatore Mitchell celebrating the requiem high mass. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery, with the following as bearers: Peter Massa, Ross Minelli, Sam Rich, Frank Cerando and Frank Manfrey.
Those attending the services from away were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ritz, New Galilee; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Girard, Jr., West Madella, Peter Pace, Mrs. Frances Gerardi and Joseph Gerardi, Sr., of Beaver Falls.

CHARLES F. MEYERS
Funeral services in memory of Charles F. Meyers were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 from Trinity Memorial church with the Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth officiating. Interment was in Oakland cemetery with the following as bearers: George Baxter, Ed C. Lowrey, Rex Bickarck, John Rossman, H. B. Meacham and Sylvanus Davis.
Those attending the services from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Miss Erlamond Wilson, Ridgway; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harvey, Mrs. John Kniese, Gowanda, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pratt, Miss Elizabeth Pratt, Sugar Grove; Mrs. Kathryn Steinkamp, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Bruce A. Reeder, Corry; Charles H. Meyers, Grove City.

WATCH COUPONS
Today is the last day for use of stamp No. 21 in War Ration Book 1, as the stamp, which is good for one pound of coffee, expires at midnight tonight. Stamp No. 22 becomes good on Thursday and remains good until August 11. Today also is the last for the use of the No. 5 stamp in a gasoline rationing book. The stamps have been in use for the past four months. The No. 6 gasoline coupons become good on Thursday and remain good through Nov. 21. Each stamp—there are eight of them—is good for three gallons of gasoline under present rationing quotas.

Major Leagues Settle Down To Stretch Drive With Start Of The Intersectional Series

Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues are heading into the home stretch today with plenty of opportunity as well as determination to shuffle the standings before the end of the season. There has been comparatively little action on the field since the ten days ago for the All-Star show, but this breathing spell has been used by many of the clubs to gird themselves for the grind ahead. More player swaps have been made in the last week than in any similar period since the 1942 campaign closed. The Brooklyn Dodgers have undergone a house-cleaning that has sent Pitcher Bobo Newsom to the St. Louis Browns, Outfielder Joe Medwick to the New York Giants and Catcher Dee Moore to the Philadelphia Phillies. Many other clubs, even the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, have dipped into the farm systems for additional strength and some moves of this character probably will be completed before the week is over.

How all the changes will add up in the standings remains to be seen, but both the Browns and Giants appear to be strengthened and hope to rise. St. Louis now is just half a game out of the first division and the acquisition of Newsom, who was one of the National League's leading hurlers until he became involved in the revolt of the Dodgers, may yet get into the battle for the American League pennant. The team is nine games behind the first place New York Yankees, but only three and a half back of the second-place Washington Senators. Manager Luke Sewell was given a new two-year contract yesterday and recently two of his star players, Vernon Stephens and George McQuinn, were turned down by the army, stabilizing the whole picture for the Browns.

Sports Roundup

New York, July 21.—(P)—Senior Don Forrest Cox—better known as Frosty Cox, Colorado U. basketball coach—recently received this letter, written "with some interposition" by Jaime Murci, a recreational director in Barcelona, Spain: "I should be very happy if you could find time to send me any magazine, periodical, or rule book which, in your esteemed judgment, might help me in my work of attempting to popularize basketball, of which I am a fervent admirer; thus I should be able to develop my technical ability as recreational director and to increase the number of volumes dealing with my favorite sport which I possess in my private library." This proves only that Don Jaime's ideas of sport are better than his command of English but if he'd listen when the wind is right, he'd likely hear some Doughboys in Sicily arguing about basketball. . . . Or Phog Allen sounding off on the same subject from Kansas.

Stark Madness
 It wasn't in Brooklyn but in Charleston, S. C., where a 14-year-old batboy set a record of some sort recently by getting himself bounced from the ball park—a Leo Durocher. . . . Prexy Nolly Sans of the Charleston Municipal League reports that Bathory "Nellie" Strong of the Stark hospital team became so peeved at a decision that he rushed the ump, pounded his chest protector with his fists and then backed off and challenged the arbiter to come on and fight. . . . The ump prudently beckoned a cop to take the kid out of the park still shouting "robber," and "Nellie" spent the rest of the game chasing foul balls that came over the fence.

One-Minute Sports Page
 The once-extensive eastern tennis circuit apparently has been whittled down to the Southampton invitation tournament next week and the eastern championships at Rye, which will be appreciated even more than the nationals. . . . Bill Kyne, seeing the races at Jamaica, reports that he is interested in a new track at Puente, near Los Angeles, which will begin operations (on the customers' bankrolls, of course) in December. . . . Iowa State's revised football schedule, reduces "passenger miles" more than 50 percent. . . . Most college squads are reducing passengers in about the same proportion. . . . Charley Osterlitter, former six-day bike racer, pedals nine miles from his home in Newark, N. J., to the golf course every week-end. . . . But if most golfers tried that, they'd have to spell it weak end.

Today's Guest Star
 John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers doesn't believe in playing baseball on Sunday, but from the way his bums are floundering, it appears the Flatbush flock is going Branch one better and doesn't believe in playing baseball any day of the week."

Corry To Be The Attraction Against National Forge At Russell Field Next Sunday

Making good their promise of last Monday evening to bring more Sunday games to Russell Field, the management of the National Forge team announces that hostilities will be resumed there this weekend with Corry as the attraction. The game is scheduled to start at three o'clock. There is every reason to assure fans that this attraction should be a sizzler in every sense of the word. Corry and Forge have split to date and tied one game in three clashes, the latter being the game played at the State Hospital diamond last Friday. Gagliardi, undefeated this season, and Cassell, outstanding mound artist for the Corryites, will be the opposing pitchers. It was demonstrated in the double-header with the St. Marys Colts last Sunday that the Forge hitters really have found themselves. Confident that they will take up where they left off last week, they expect plenty of bingles next Sunday. A return game will be played at Corry Sunday, August first.

Grace Team Tops Baptists In League Tilt

In a game that saw both teams on a hitting spree the Grace Methodist team topped the Baptist Temple boys last night at Beaty Field. The score stood 20 to 16 at the end of the game, which many of the players and spectators thought would never end. It was sloppily played and hits for both sides were numerous. Urbanski playing for Grace crossed the plate five times with one of them being a home run. Raider did the pitching for the Methodist boys and Rossman took care of this item for the Baptists. Tonight the First Methodist and Episcopal teams will meet. Both of these teams have so far been undefeated this round.

Team Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.
Episcopal	1	0	1.000
First Methodist	1	0	1.000
Grace Methodist	1	1	.500
St. Joseph's	1	1	.500
Baptist	0	2	.000

 Managers of the various teams are to take special notice of the fact that the Presbyterian team has dropped from the league and although an effort to replace them with another team has been made this effort has been unsuccessful, therefore whenever the Presbyterian team was to have played the team opposing them will have a bye.

Chicago Has Tournament Extravaganza

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
 Chicago, July 21.—(P)—Golf on a tremendous scale—three tournaments rolled into one—was presented with theatrical setting in the Tam O'Shanter extravaganza today. The tournament became the nation's biggest golf show of the year when the professionals and women joined the amateur ensemble which has held the stage since Monday. While the surviving 64 qualifiers in the All American Amateur were sweeping through their first day of match play, the pros battled for 71 places in the $10,000 All American Open and the women played for 18 positions in their tournament—both of which start tomorrow at 72 holes of medal play. Blond Byron Nelson of Toledo, twice winner of the Tam Open, was rated as a topheavy favorite (Turn to Page Seven)

Golf Tourney Reaches The Title Stage

The annual golf championship at the Conevango Valley Country Club has reached the title stage with "Bill" Rice, tournament medalist, winning his way to the finals with victories over George Juline and John Carter. The other finalist will be either the defending champion, "Tim" Creal, or the 1942 runner-up, Marshall Parshall, who meet in the other semi-final match some time this week. The summary of matches to date:

First Round
 Rice, by: George Juline defeated Hans Link; Art Johnson, by: John Carter defeated I. S. Brumagim; Creal, by: Charles Blackman defeated Sheridan Brown; Parshall, by: A. M. Mitchell won over Howell.

Second Round
 Rice defeated Junne, 3 and 2; Carter defeated Johnson, 3 and 2; Creal defeated Blackman, 5 and 3; Parshall won over Mitchell, 1-up.
Semi-Finals
 Rice edged Carter, 1-up; Creal vs. Parshall.

Pirates Grab An Infielder

Pittsburgh, July 21.—(P)—Hard-pressed for infielders as they drive towards second place in the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates have grabbed Al Rubelling, 29, from the Toronto Leafs for undisclosed cash and the use of Pitcher Harry Shuman on option until the end of the International League season. The Bucs were left without a utility infielder when Shortstop "Huck" Geary quit the club last week. Last night when Third Baseman Bobby Elliott was chased from the game with Philadelphia for arguing with Umpire George Magerkuth about a called strike, Manager Frankie Frisch had to put Tommy O'Brien, rookie out-felder, at the hot corner.

Vikings Here For Twilight Game Friday

The National Forge will play a twilight game Friday evening at Russell field, meeting the Jamestown Vikings in a contest to start at 6:15 o'clock.

The Vikings and Hope Windows, long two of Jamestown's leading ball teams, are fighting it out for the city championship there and a hot battle is anticipated. Hines will probably pitch for the Forge, Jamestown, as yet, has not announced their mound selection. It is the desire of the Forge management to give to the supporting fans of Warren as many games as they wish. For this event all children will be admitted free but must take their seats in the bleachers. Considering the scarcity that exists too many balls are being stolen, and it is hoped that all youngsters will cooperate with the team by helping to assure return of them when they are fouled away from the diamond.

FOOTBALL TALK HAS STARTED AT COLUMBIA

New York, July 21.—(P)—It may be the middle of summer and the height of the baseball season, but on the campus of Columbia University football talk has started. Talk is used advisedly. Lou Little, the Lions' famous football mentor, returned yesterday from Cape Cod where he had been recuperating from a throat operation and in shirt sleeves directed the workout of a squad of 50 gridiron candidates. After weeks of writing notes in order to rest his ailing vocal chords, Little has regained the use of his voice and brother, that means conversation.

MONSIGNOR BURKE IS PLEASED AT BOMBING
Hackensack, N. J., July 21.—(P)—Monsignor Eugene E. Burke, former rector of the American seminary in Rome, today in an interview with the Bergen Evening Record expressed satisfaction that American aviators had bombed that city, at the same time voicing gratitude that care had been taken to spare non military structures.

Now pastor of Holy Trinity church, Hackensack, the Monsignor said:

"The Axis may no longer hide behind the walls of the Eternal City. Probably the Pope was sitting in the Vatican thanking God that Rome had at last been bombed. He would realize that while innocents surely would suffer as a result, that it is necessary in order to rid the world of Fascism. It was a military job and a well done one."

Victorious Allies Capture Enna, Hub Of Inland Defenses
Italian boot, as well as points in Sardinia.

A bulletin from Allied headquarters in North Africa said Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th Army was making "steady progress" in its climactic attack on Catania, key to the island's east coast defense system, and had inflicted very heavy casualties on the enemy.

Crack German armored divisions, fighting a desperate delaying action, were previously reported to have checked the 8th Army's advance at the gates of Catania.

Today's announcement of steady progress indicated that Gen. Montgomery had opened another of his famed crusher assaults by massed artillery, tanks and troops preliminary to a final drive up the coast. Catania is only 50 miles from the Axis "escape port" of Messina, which itself lies across a two-mile-wide strait from the tip of the Italian mainland.

With the fall of Enna, American and Canadian forces were now in a position to outflank Catania by thrusting to the northeast around Mt. Etna. Moreover, they had only about 35 miles to go to reach the northern coast at Stefano and thus bisect the island.

Dispatches from Allied headquarters again reported that Italian soldiers were mutinying against their German commanders and that Sicilian crowds had to be restrained from attacking Nazi prisoners as they were marched through the streets of captured towns.

In the 12-day-old battle for Sicily, dispatches declared that the situation was now entering the crisis stage for the enemy, with only the German fighting savagely, while the war-weary Italians surrendered in droves.

Stock Market Buying Power Is at Low Ebb

New York, July 21.—(P)—Stock market buying power remained at low ebb today but a few parts of the list showed signs of stabilizing after yesterday's sell-off.

Industrial leaders generally receded a little further from the 1 to 4 year peaks established earlier in the month. Better resistance was displayed by some utilities, store stocks and specialties. Price changes mostly were in fractions, and declines predominated near the fourth hour. Dealings slowed considerably after a fairly active first hour.

Inclined to lag were General Motors, Chrysler, Bethlehem Steel, DuPont, Southern Railway, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific and Texas Co. Supported at intervals were U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, Consolidated Edison and Union Carbide.

Bonds were irregular and commodities steady.

WIFE GREETES SLAYER IN PRISON AT NASSAU
Nassau, Bahamas, July 21.—(P)—Nancy Oakes De Marigny conferred for an hour and a half in Bahamas prison yesterday with her tall, bearded husband, Alfred De Marigny, who is charged with the murder of her father, wealthy Sir Harry Oakes.

Going directly to the prison after her airplane trip here from New England, the 19-year-old girl greeted De Marigny with a kiss. She talked to him in the presence of De Marigny's attorney, Godfrey Higgs, and Capt. Reginald Miller, superintendent of prisons.

Oakes was known to have opposed his daughter's wedding and Capt. James O. Barker, one of the Miami police officers working on the case, said it was "common knowledge" that ill feeling existed between De Marigny and Oakes.

SUCCESSFUL ATTACK MADE BY CHINESE
Chungking, July 21.—(P)—Chinese troops made a successful raid on the Japanese-occupied island of Huangkua off the Fukien coast some 60 miles south of Foochow, killing many enemy troops, taking several prisoners and capturing a boatload of supplies, a high command communique announced today.

In Chekiang Province, Japanese troops attacking Chinese positions southeast of Linghu were repulsed and lost a large quantity of military supplies, it added.

SLAIN MAN DECLARED ACCESSORY TO ACT
Titusville, July 21.—(P)—A coroner's jury returned a verdict today that Harold Roy Muir died July 16 from a gunshot wound "caused by a bullet fired from a .22 calibre rifle in the hands of Caroline Hogan Marvin."

"From evidence submitted by witnesses we are of the opinion that this was a felonious act by Caroline Hogan Marvin, principal, and Harold Roy Muir, accessory," the verdict stated.

A murder charge was filed against the 38-year old Mrs. Marvin by District Attorney Herbert A. Mook last week.

INDIANS ARE STAGING ANNUAL CEREMONY
Fort Hall, Idaho, July 21.—(P)—Indian dancers, nude to the waist, their bodies streaked with brilliantly-hued paint, stand silent, their eyes turned to the east.

As the sun slowly ascends, tom-toms begin to throb and the red-men fling their arms upward in long sweeping motions. They're "waving up" the sun.

That is the symbolic dawn ceremony of the annual sun dance by Bannack and Shoshone Indians of the Fort Hall reservation—a rigorous ritual, begun at sundown last night, which continues through today and tomorrow.

Italians Prepared For "State of Emergency"
Bern, July 21.—(P)—The Italian Army command, whose headquarters are at Rome, has prepared the Italian populace for a "state of emergency" in the event of an Allied landing within its zone on the Italian mainland, a Swiss telegraphic agency dispatch from Rome reported today.

Notices posted on walls in Rome and elsewhere tell the people that invasion would be signalled by bells, after which they would be compelled to remain day and night in their homes or air raid shelters, the dispatch said.

The unreliable Berlin radio asserted that Allied planes returned to the attack on Rome last night, following up Monday's 500-plane raid by all-American forces. The report was not confirmed by any other source.

With Sicily apparently doomed to swift conquest, Italian nervousness over the prospect of invasion of the Italian mainland increased, and it was generally believed that Premier Mussolini had made an urgent appeal to Adolf Hitler for more help when the two dictators met somewhere in northern Italy on Monday.

Various reports stressed increasing uneasiness in the Balkans as the situation moved toward a showdown.

Istanbul reports said Premier Ion Antonescu had bluntly refused German demands that Rumania join in the fighting this summer against Russia, declaring that henceforth Rumania would defend only her own borders.

A Moscow broadcast said the Bulgarian parliament met in extraordinary session yesterday, all Bulgarian army leaves were cancelled and soldiers on leave were ordered to report immediately.

"Fun Party" Planned For Young Folk

Government agencies aren't the only ones adopting initials for titles these days and PAC is soon going to be as well known in Warren as any of the state or federal agencies if the Presbyterian Activities Club continues with its present plans for recreational entertainment for youth of the community.

After a "swim party" at the YMCA pool as its first successful venture, the committee has turned to a different type of program for a "Fun Night" to be held in the YWCA activities building from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Saturday.

Rev. Delbert Jolley, Methodist pastor at Ripley, N. Y., who is well known to young people here and made a big hit as leader of folk games at the recent Methodist institute at Edinboro, is vacationing in the vicinity and will be on hand to direct that portion of the program. Assisting him will be Miss Hulda Angermann, young people's worker of the First Presbyterian church.

Delbert Lewis, cooperating fully in the committee's plans, has promised a "hot dog" booth for Saturday night, where refreshments may be bought at a nominal sum.

These activities are strictly interdenominational and have been planned to reach a wide range of youth groups. If the turnout and enthusiasm of the "swim" are any basis for judgment, those in charge will find a full house on Saturday night.

Deadline Set For Student Nurse of Army

High school graduates who desire student nurse training with pay at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Federal institution for mental disorders, Washington, D. C., have until September 21 to file applications, the United States Civil Service Commission announced today.

Appointees chosen by the written test receive rooms, meals, medical attention, $288 a year, and valuable training in psychiatric nursing. After 3 years, successful students are granted certificates of graduation and become eligible for promotion to graduate nurse positions in St. Elizabeths and other Federal hospitals at entrance salaries of $1,970 a year counting overtime compensation for the 48-hour week.

Information and application forms for the Student Nurse examination are being furnished by the Commission's Local Secretary, Mr. W. U. McMichael, located at Warren, Pa. Applications are also obtainable from most first-or second-class post offices, and from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Applications are not desired from person already engaged in war work unless they may use higher skills as student nurses. Appointments will be made in accordance with War Manpower Commission policies and employment stabilization plans.

REDCAPS GET EIGHT RUNS ON FIVE HITS

The undefeated South Street Redcaps in a game with the South Side Unknowns converted five hits into eight runs and took over the South Side Unknowns by a score of eight to six. The Redcaps had difficulty solving Swanson's offerings over the slab and were lucky to get a win. In addition to eight hits off the slants of B. Massa, slabman for the Redcaps, the South streets also committed seven errors that should have been taken advantage of by the Unknowns. All in all it was the Redcaps lucky day as they did everything but present the game on a platter to the Unknowns.

VETERAN PITCHER TO REPORT FOR INDUCTION

Marselles, Ill., July 21.—(P)—Si Johnson, Phillies' veteran pitcher, will report for induction into the armed services in three weeks. Johnson, who passed his physical examination yesterday, is married and childless. He won eight and lost three for the Phillies this season.

Opens Tomorrow! Metzger-Wright's Advance

FUR SALE

Lay-Away Fur Sale!

Tomorrow opens our most important Fur Sale in many years. When we began to prepare for this Sale months ago, we knew we were up against the hardest market conditions in years. We enlisted the help of our New York office (which serves stores doing an annual business of several hundred million dollars). We literally combed the fur district street by street and shop by shop. The result is—Metzger-Wright's HAS THE FURS!

You can see the truth of this statement yourself—here—tomorrow. Our New York furrier will be with us for three days. Our own stock of chosen pelts is at your service. We advise you to buy promptly because we cannot duplicate the qualities nor the selections later in the season. Many types of garments are unreplaceable.

You may buy on a Lay-away Plan if you wish or on a Budget Plan within the provisions of Federal Reserve Regulation W.

An Outstanding Group Fur Coats at $78

We searched the fur market, we had our New York buyers search the market, for this group of coats, and we do feel they are the finest collection at the price that has ever been offered in Warren. Included are black Sealines, black and brown Beaverettes, beautiful China Mink, and dyed Coney ensembles, which include the hat, coat, and muff. Every single coat in this collection is one that you will be proud to wear and one we are proud to sell you.

Northern Muskrat $329

So soft, so supple, and so light to your touch. Beautifully blended skins in rich dark deep brown. Full cut.

Natural Opossum $129

A new shorter length coat, 32 inches, that is so much in demand. Full sleeves. Richly lined. Collarless neckline.

Mendoza Beaver $129

Turn-back cuffs that may be rolled either up or left down are one of the features of this shawl collared coat.

Black Persian $375

One of the richest furs is Persian Lamb—a fur that gives lasting wear. Shawl collar, slashed pockets, turn-back cuffs.

Tipped Skunk $295

The "great coat" in fur is this natural tipped skunk, fashioned on the full boxy lines. A coat to wear at all times.
